About e-learning

Quite simply, e-learning is any form of training delivered via electronic means. Typically, this means using a computer to deliver part or all of a course, however mobile apps and virtual classrooms also fall under this category.

E-learning can provide your organisation with many benefits over e-learning, including:

- Reduce the cost of delivery
- Reduce travel time to and from a training event
- Reduce your organisation's carbon footprint
- Learners can go at their own pace
- Learners can concentrate on areas which they find more difficult
- Ensure consistency in training material
- Decrease the length of time it takes to put a large number of learners through training
- Monitor learner progress more effectively
- Learners can complete their training in their own time
